

As a flight attendant for United Airlines, I am completely AGAINST the use of cell phones onboard an aircraft while inflight. Much like you aren't able to listen to electronics on buses and trains without headphones, this would be completely annoying to those around the person chatting on their phone.